

HEALTH REIMBURSEMENT ACCOUNT (HRA)

The Health Reimbursement Account (HRA) is an account for those enrolled in the Active Health Option. Only New York Life contributes money to this account for your use, and you can also earn incentive dollars for completing healthy activities. If you leave New York Life, you will forfeit your HRA balance.

You can choose to use your HRA to help pay for eligible medical expenses under the Active Health Option, including your deductible. This means less money out of your own pocket to cover medical expenses for you and your dependents.

Keep in mind, your HRA can be used only for eligible medical expenses; you cannot use this account for prescription drug, dental, vision, or other types of health care expenses that are not covered under the Active Health Option.

Important reminders

Do you think the Active Health Option deductible is too high? We don't. The HRA has you covered.

The Active Health Option in-network deductible for Individual coverage is $1,600 for 2019. But with New York Life's contribution to your HRA through consumer dollars, and the lower contributions for the Active Health Option, your out-of-pocket costs might be less than you think.

Here's an example:

The annual contributions for the Active Health Option ($1,344.20) are lower than the Standard Health Option ($1,545.70): $201.50

New York Life contributes to your HRA (consumer dollars + health incentive dollars you earn for completing healthy activities): up to $950

- $400 consumer dollars* (assumes a benefits salary between $50,000 and $99,999)
- $550 health incentive dollars (assumes completion of all Health Awareness and Education incentives)

$1,600
(Individual Deductible)

= $1,151.50 you can use to cover your deductible

* The amount of consumer dollars that may be available to you is dependent on your benefits salary.

 Assumes contribution savings and HRA balance are applied to the deductible.
